AUGUST 2009 REVIEWS

CANDY NOW! - S/T: Candy Now! is a new band put together by Blag Dahlia of the Dwarves and Angelina Moysov. If you're expecting the craziness of the Dwarves then this release may not be for you! This is a twelve track album that has a wide range of influences from pop to country to rockabilly to punk and that's why this album is a great listen. Nothing is predictable and the dual male/female vocals from Blag and Angelina work so well together. In fact you'd have thought they'd been working together all their musical lives. There's some great tracks in 'Alice', 'Waiting Here For You', 'Do What You Wanna' and 'Bitch I Love You'. The only track I thought was a little iffy is the opener 'Everloving You'. I just can't to grips with that one yet the rest of the album kicks ass! If you're looking for something refreshing then check out this self titled album. 8/10
