Rating: 6 stars!

American Speedway is a rock n rollin animal that's fast, furious & revved to maximum speed on their new release, "Ship of Fools", & the title track opens the cd with power, fury & excess via fast, power driven guitar licks, pounding drums with plenty of crash cymbals, & the singer sounds like he's on trucker's speed & jack daniels! Listening to this cd, I get excited for real rock music again, because this band has drive, they have desire to impress & they have freakin' balls! Honestly, the best way I would describe this band is as follows: PURE ROCK N ROLL EXCESS!!! They don't full around, they kick your ass with their gut wrenching riffs, their demanding rhythm & their raw power! "Drinkin' & Drivin'" kinda starts off like a few different songs by the band Kyuss with this really low tuned sound, & honestly, I dig the hell outta this band...they make rock music fun, they play dirty, they are NOT mainstream, they offer no apologies & they play the purest form of hard rock music...no frills, in your face, dirty, high energy rock n roll!
