Vader: And Blood Was Shed in Warsaw (DVD)

The juggernauts of Polish death metal, Vader, are back again with another kick ass concert DVD, this one titled And Blood Was Shed in Warsaw, filmed & recorded at the Stodolo Club in Warsaw, Poland on February 12, 2007. This is a real doozy of a show, very professionally shot and recorded, with the band firing on all cylinders during a 20 song set in front of a rabid audience screaming "Vader, Vader" between every song. Lead singer/guitarist Peter looms large at center stage, his bellowing thrash/death growls (which are some of the best in the business) and whammy bar lead theatrics taking the band through classics like "Sothis", "Helleluyah!!! (God is Dead)", "Cold Demons", "Dark Age", "Black to the Blind", "Blood of Kingu", "Epitaph", and "Wings", among many others. Alongside Mauser, the two guitarists crash through merciless riff after riff, with drummer Daray pounding away and bassist Novy providing some rumbling grooves. Every so often the camera flies through the audience to display the raging mosh pit at center floor, which is a crazed maelstrom of fury and violence (in good fun of course).

The show was filmed on the final stop of the bands tour promoting their latest CD Impressions In Blood, so expect plenty of songs from that release here, along with a host of classic Vader tunes. Behemoth/Vesania member Orion even comes out on stage to play with the band on the final cut "Wyroczenia", creating an almost "heavyweights of Polish death metal" surprise jam that is a real treat for the viewer. For bonus features you get an interview with Peter and the videos of "Helleluyah (God Is Dead)", perhaps the most popular tune from Impressions In Blood, and "Sword of the Witcher". For those of you here in the US that are gearing up for Vader's upcoming tour on these shores, get a hold of this excellent DVD for a pre-tour primer and get ready to experience one of the most consistent death metal bands on the planet.
