

The Daily Record

www.dunndailyrecord.com

"TAD Busted Circuits and Ringing Ears" chronicles the bands rise and eventual disintegration from their beginning in Seattle clubs to arena concerts.

"Soul Syndicate Band- Word Sound and Power" is a 1981 documentary about Jamaica's finest group of reggae instrumentalists which combines band interviews with discussions and live performances.

"Liberty in Restraint" delves deeply into the life of Noel Graydon, a fetish photographer who died tragically in 2007

"Deep Roots Music 2- Bunny Lee Story/Black Ark" is a six part series and the ultimate word on Reggae, produced during the early 1980's, right after the death of Bob Marley, and includes interviews with Prince Jimmy, Wayne Smith, Junior reed and Jackie Edwards.

- Eddy Friedfeld