Meanwhile, MVD has T.S.O.L. – The Early Years Live, a compilation of concert footage shot by Flipside magazine and early '80s VHS terrorists Target Video. The 14 tracks (which include staples like "Darker My Love" and "Abolish Government/Silent Majority") are rounded out by footage of frontman Jack Grishman reading from his upcoming book, and a live clip of T.S.O.L. circa 2007. MVD's also releasing Earache My Eye, a 1989 collection of videos from Earache's roster of grindcore and noise acts, including God Flesh, Entombed, Fudge Tunnel, Napalm Death, and Pitchshifter. You'll need no better excuses to relive your misspent youth than these discs.

Yow - dig Jack's vest in this version of "Darker My Love" from The Early Years Live:
