A Million Tiny Things

The past few days have been riddled with to-do lists with a lot of little things on it. I took my "new" Esquire (see August 23rd) to get refretted. It should take a week or so for Peter Jones to get the job done. I trust no one else in this town with such an important instrument. He does such good work... for me anyway.

I spent most of the day running errands with Michelle. I think we got everything done. We picked up a copy of the new "Shawn Mullins: Live at The Variety Playhouse" DVD. I also got a chance to watch it. It is fantastic! I suggest all of you to pick up a copy. In it you'll find a 220 pound version of me playing a multitude of instruments with some of Atlanta's (& Augusta's) finest musicians. The bus picked me up at 2am at the airport. We're on our way to LA (lower Alabama).

ABOUT ME

CLAY COOK

I'm a musician. I like things that have anything to do with good music. I spend my 'work' time engineering & producing music, touring & playing music on stage, & writing some of my own 'work.' I have the 2nd best 'job' in the world. #1 belonging to a STUD HORSE. My free time is spent with Michelle, sleeping, & eating.
