Jean-Marie Pallardy: Classics Of French Erotica...

Click images to enlarge...

Director Jean-Marie Pallardy's first 1972 feature, based on a true story that occurred in Bruay-en-Artois, France revolves around a public official who needs to get married to quell the sordid rumours of his bachelor behavior.

Showing interest in 'Evelyne', she succumbs to his advances, but more in love with his money, as she continues a relationship with a girlfriend, who doesn't accept the situation.

Bonus material on the remastered DVD from MVD Entertainment Group, includes classic trailers and the Journal of A Hundred Photographs, issued from the director's private collection.
