

Seeing is believing. The best Travel Planning tools are Travel Videos

Travel Videos are one tool that travelers can appreciate. We all are familiar with statements such as "I won't believe it until I see it." Well, those thoughts are even more important when you consider planning your vacation. The fact is, that for many people, the vacation represents an accumulation of a years worth of working 5 days a week and a substantial investment of family savings to find their own Shangri-la for a week or two. How do we get the most of our limited vacation time and money? What tools are available to help us? The answer is Travel Videos.

Travel videos offer the next best thing to being there. From a planning perspective you can see the different activities, points of interest, and what you can expect upon your arrival. Once you have chosen your destination, travel videos help you chart out what you want to see and do. The producers of travel films bring a destination to life in a way that cannot be read, but must be experienced by combining the art of video photography and informative dialog.

TravelVideoStore.com is the largest distributor of Travel Videos in the world, with over 6,000 titles in their catalog, located right here in Tampa. The website is currently used by all the leading travel industry organizations along with travel agents and libraries. Their recent addition of video clips providing samples of thousands of travel films makes picking out a travel video easier than ever before.

NEW RELEASES

DRAMA

EIGHT BELOW
Walt Disney Home Entertainment; List Price $29.99

Inspired by a true story, the film tells the story of three members of a scientific expedition: Jerry Shepard (Paul Walker), his best friend, Cooper (Jason Biggs), and a rugged American geologist (Bruce Greenwood), who are forced to leave behind their team of beloved sled dogs due to a sudden accident and perilous weather conditions in Antarctica. During the harsh, Antarctic winter, the dogs must struggle for survival alone in the intense frozen wilderness for over 6 months. The film is inspired by the events of a 1957 Japanese Antarctic Expedition, which served as the basis for the blockbuster Japanese film, "Nankyoku Monogatari" ("Antarctica").

PROUD
T.H. Entertainment; List Price: $26.98

This is the inspiring true story of the USS Mason a WWII battleship with a remarkable legacy. Starring Ossie Davis in his last feature film role, and Stephen Rea, Proud salutes the only African-American crew manning a battleship sent into combat during World War II. Variety.com said Proud is part history lesson, part family saga, a lyrical nod to the Old Sod, a Navy recruitment flag-waver and a war actioner.
