THE VIBRATORS - 'LIVE ENERGIZED CBGB 2004' DVD

What can you say about this...legendary band playing a legendary place. The Vibrators have been around since the beginning of punk rock and they look and sound more vigorous and spirited that they did 20 years ago! A 23 song set here! The energy is relentless! I think it's great that there are DVDs of older bands coming out, older bands that are still rocking and ruling...that's so cool to see and it's important that the kids take it all in and learn something! It's all very well owning all the 'Show Must Go Off!' DVD series but this is something more profound, more historical. This is the roots. I'm always pushing for this and not because I'm a bitter and old, I'm 27 so I'm right in the middle and believe in the importance of broadening younger punks' knowledge and, thanks to stimulating DVDs like this, that is closer to happening. This isn't some played-out hackneyed bunch of old punks droning on- this is fucking inspiring because they still kick the shit out of most of the bands half their age!! It's too easy for kids today...they don't seem to care where the roots of their scenes lie and that's not just in punk rock but in everything and that's just gotta change... it's not too late to start learning!! Almost 2 hours including the set, the encores and interviews...what a packet.
