Lennon And McCartney - "Composing Outside The Beatles" DVD

I confess...I didn't make it through this exhaustive 2.5 hour documentary. Covering the years 1973-1980, this examines, with the usual historians and collaborators (including former members of Wings), the period post-Beatles when John Lennon and Paul McCartney struck out on their own with solo projects.

As with others in this series, there are plenty of photos and video clips to illustrate the albums and singles. For Beatles fans, this could be considered an essential critical evaluation. For me? It's just too much. (Pride DVD via MVD Visual)
