

STEREO CHRIST/Dead River Blues (Arctic Music Group) This was almost grunge in nature, but it was quite good. The band are heavy as hell and they also have some melody to them as well. It is almost like a Southern style meets grunge metal at times. The tunes are simple, but are effective in getting their point across. The vocals are perfect for this band as the guys has an almost drunk like voice at times sings with passion and feeling. If your into stuff like Alice in Chains, Crowbar, etc, then you'll love this.
