AM & Shawn Lee & I, Ced are two musical flavors that we out right love here at the URB SF offices, so to get both of them on the same track was like mixing chocolate and peanut butter for our ears.

Leading off the musical goodness to be dropped by AM & Shawn Lee on their forthcoming (August 20th) remix album of May's La Musique Numerique, I,Ced softens up the originals's drum/bass tones and drops this squarely into a sonic territory that can be only be described as somewhere half way between the Isley's and the Mothership. It's a downright spacey soul joint that is easy on the ears and has just the right amount of airy sensuality for that morning reach around. (The views of this column are not necessarily the views of all URB staffers...)

In all seriousness, the track is smooth as silk and butter for your ears.

To top it all off, AM & Shawn Lee have announced a bunch of fall tour dates that should make a whole bunch of ears and bodies extremely happy:
