Steve Diet Goedde – Living Through... Photographic Anthology 1990 – 2004

Picture: C+    Sound: C+
Extras: C    Main Program: B-

Still photography is a great artform as we recently encountered on DVD again with discs on Henri Cartier-Bresson and William Eggleston (reviewed on this site) showed. Those discs showed the still works of the artists, but were more so documentaries about them. Steve Diet Goedde – Living Through... is more interested in showing the actual works than the man, spending much of its times showing the often erotic women (in color and monochrome) set to music.

The disc is somewhat interactive and pleasant to watch. Getting the quality in these shots are not easy, but it is done with some classiness and I liked the Super Jewel Box packaging. As the subtitle notes, the shots were made between 1990 and 2004, certainly taking more effort than many would think. However, lighting is exceptional and the works exceed 700 images. This is worth your time if you like the subject.

Unrated (HD-DVD/2005)

- > Street Fighter II - The Animated Movie (Manga)
- > Pitch Black – Unrated Director's Cut (HD-DVD)
- > Fatso
- > Folks!
- > Miami Vice (2006/Theatrical Film Review)
- > Sex & The Celts
- > The Mysterians (1957/Science Fiction/Japan)
- > Grand Prix (1966/Two Disc Special Edition)
- > Is It Really So Strange? (Morrissey Fan Documentary)
- > 16 Horsepower Live (DVD-Video)
- > Monsieur Gainsbourg Revisited (CD Tribute)

The 1.33 X 1 image is not bad, but the lack of anamorphic enhancement does cut into the resolution, as this is a disc thought of with standard TV playback in mind. An HD equivalent would be interesting. The Dolby Digital 2.0 Stereo is simple and music semi-electronic. It is not bad, but has no surrounds and is not very thick. It does the accompaniment job necessary, though. Extras include Goedde audio commentary, behind-the-scenes footage, behind-the-scenes snapshots, interviews with six of the models and 9 model galleries. An interesting use of the DVD format for an artform we do not see enough on DVD.
