ROBERT DUCHAINE/Offensive...But Not in a Good Way: The latest in a long line of pissed off comics that like to spew venom like the way the kids in the back row of the classroom did, Duchaine tosses grenades and hit's the target, even as shrapnel tears through the collateral damage. Since we're living in times where there's so much to be pissed off about, this guy has plenty of material to work with, and he does. If you like it dark and hostile, this guy is a take no prisoners version of Lisa Lampanelli where nothing is safe and nothing is sacred.
