WARFARE (Blu-ray) A24

Warfare is a war film based on a real mission in an al-Qaeda controlled area of Iraq's Ramadi Province. The film revolves around a U.S. Navy SEAL platoon's surveillance mission in insurgent Iraq territory, while in the home of an Iraqi family. The group of American Navy SEALs were surveilling an urban residential area to make sure that ground troops could pass through safely the next day, which unfortunately quickly escalated into a dangerous firefight. Co-directed by Ray Mendoza and Alex Garland, it is based on Mendoza's real-life experiences and the experiences of his platoon during the Iraq war. Created with realism as the foundation, the film draws heavily on the testimonies of the platoon members involved, and displays the chaos they encountered. The exciting film Warfare presents themes of brotherhood, sacrifice, survival, and the brutal realities of modern warfare, and features a strong ensemble cast that includes D'Pharaoh Woon-A-Tai, Will Poulter, Cosmo Jarvis, Kit Connor, and Joseph Quinn.

STAY COOL IN THE SUMMER HEAT

The City of Boston declared another heat emergency last week as temperatures soared across our neighborhoods. With the heat index climbing dangerously high, it's especially important to always take extra care — particularly for our seniors, young children, and anyone without access to air conditioning.

I spent the heat wave jumping back and forth between Shea's Beach in East Boston and Wollaston Beach in Quincy. I lived in Quincy for some 25 years and always enjoyed getting a nice suntan stretched out in my beach chair. However, if I just want to stay local, I go down to Eastie's beach now called Constitution Beach by DCR but Shea's by all the locals.

As a Sicilian-Irish guy, I never burn or start looking like a lobster. Usually by the time Labor Day approaches, I could pass for a Tunisian from North Africa. My DNA includes 4 percent Tunisian.

Just remember don't overdo things during hot temperatures. Stay hydrated and don't get sunstroke. I did once and it wasn't fun. Oh, and always use sunscreen. Back in my younger days, I didn't and got a small case of skin cancer on my nose. Not funny. Stay cool in the heat.

Here's a little girl cooling off under a sprinkler. Thanks to Boston Youth Community Centers our young folks can get cooled off in the heat and, no matter our age, we can too.
