COMMENTS & REVIEWS

Marc	Published on: 13 Feb 2008 In the eighties, under the influence of Trevor Rabin, Yes became a (very good) pop rock band. So, for me, it was a great delight when they decided to reform what I considered to be their all time best lineup with Jon Anderson on vocals, Steve Howe on guitars, Rick Wakeman on keyboards and the great Bill Bruford on drums. Only Chris Squire on bass would be missing from the group, but Tony Levin (studio)/Jeff Berlin (live) would certainly be a more than competent replacement. This group, under the name of A-B-W-H because of legal considerations, would put out one very good (if not as good as the classic seventies Yes albums) cd and do a tour that, for reasons I can't remember, I would miss and regret not attending. An Evening Of Yes Music Plus is an audio recording of one of the shows from that tour. After starting nicely but slowly (and perhaps a bit strangely) with some "solo" music by Anderson, Wakeman and Howe, the show really gets up a notch when the classic Yes material is played, with a few of the A-B-W-H pieces sprinkled in. The performance is great all around and the concert is very well recorded. In my opinion this is the last great tour by this group of musicians. The "Union" tour that followed was almost a fiasco and subsequent incantations of Yes would never attain the level they once had, even though they made a few valliant attempts. Considering the setlist, the musicians' performances and the audio quality, I consider An Evening Of Yes Music Plus to be one of the ultimate Yes live recordings. My highest recommendation indeed!!!
Rob	Published on: 1 Oct 2001 A live recording of a concert of september 9, 1989. Courtesy of the King Biscuit Flower Hour. Due to legal proceedings Chris Squire and Alan White where not on this CD and toured with The Chris Squire Experience. As a band YES performed under the name of ABWH. From the tour in 1989 this recording was made. Of course with the classics of YES but also some song from the first cd as ABWH. Some nice accoustic medleys are on this recording.
