HOLLYWOOD 90028

HOLLYWOOD 90028 shows the dark side of the L.A. dream in the bleak and downbeat story of an aspiring movie cameraman turned serial murderer.

Written and directed by esteemed experimental filmmaker Christina Hornisher, and beautifully captured through the lens of camera operator Jean-Pierre Geuens, HOLLYWOOD 90028 offers a vivid time capsule of Los Angeles in the early 1970s.

PRESS

"HOLLYWOOD 90028 is one of the greatest films ever made about how truly brutal Hollywood's dream factory can be on those whose dreams don't come true -- the final shot of the movie is stunning."

—Jim Hemphill, IndieWire

"Part indie arthouse, part grindhouse and part historical travelogue of a now-vanished Los Angeles. Cursed with being decades ahead of its time, HOLLYWOOD 90028, Christina Hornisher's sole feature film, is a must-see."

—Sean Baker, director of TANGERINE and ANORA

"Somewhere between art film and exploitation. A bizarre, lost, and lonely low-budget time capsule of Los Angeles with a final shot that needs to be seen to be believed."

—Ti West, director of HOUSE OF THE DEVIL, PEARL, X and MAXXXINE
