The Darkside of Human Nature

"The Darkside of Human Nature" - the second full-length studio album by Brazilian Heavy/Power Metal band DINNAMARQUE.

Launching its second album entitled 'The Darkside of Human Nature', DINNAMARQUE distills in the 10 tracks of the album a mix of Thrash, Symphonic Metal, gothic metal, besides having power metal, traditional heavy metal and hard rock in its musical base. The album's theme refers to every situation that we experience nowadays, such as climate problems and the unbridled consumption of our planet. The religious problems that haunt the world again, in addition to making a heavy criticism against the problems of social networks and their manipulation in human life to the point of making them become puppets of a system that seeks their own profit and the collective dumbing down of the human mind.

The CD 'The Darkside of Human Nature' was produced by the band during the pandemic; the drums were recorded in the Guerra Studio, the Guitars and vocals in the Premium Studio and the basses, synths, orchestras and keyboards in the Dinnamarque Recording Studio all in Belo Horizonte - Brazil. The mixing and mastering was done by vocalist and bassist Rafael Dinnamarque.

The art and cover of the CD was also in charge of Rafael Dinamarque.
