SUMMARY

This 58-minute DVD is a passion-fueled examination of the 'older woman' scenario. When 28-year-old Tomomi is dumped by her boyfriend, she seeks solace in the arms of 20-year-old student, Takao.

A relationship develops through which Takao comes of age sexually and Tomomi discovers a side to love she has previously not known.

As time passes it becomes apparent that the relationship is doomed and lust has been mistaken for love.

An emotion filled yet often understated drama punctuated by frequent scenes of unbridled passion, plenty of naked flesh and the odd kinky encounter, this is Pink Cinema at its most genuine and subtle best.
