

ZOMBIE DAWN

PURE ZOMBIE TERROR...SOUTH AMERICAN MOVIE MAKING FEAT

"ZOMBIE DAWN is low budget zombie horror done right. It has that gritty feel as if it were made right about the same time as DAWN OF THE DEAD while embracing films like Peckinpah and the old spaghetti westerns by focusing on a morally grey merc and his men." AINITCOOL.COM

"'ZOMBIE DAWN' ARRIVES IN AMERICA WITH ORIGINALITY" L. VINCENT POUPARD, YAHOO!

"THE PASSION FOR THE GENRE IS HERE, DOWN TO THE TRIGGER HAPPY 'GOOD GUYS'...THERE'S A CULTISH CHARM TO EVERYTHING" JOHN LICHMAN, INDIEWIRE.COM

"KEEP YOUR EYES PEELED FOR ZOMBIE DAWN" RABIDDOGPRESS.NET

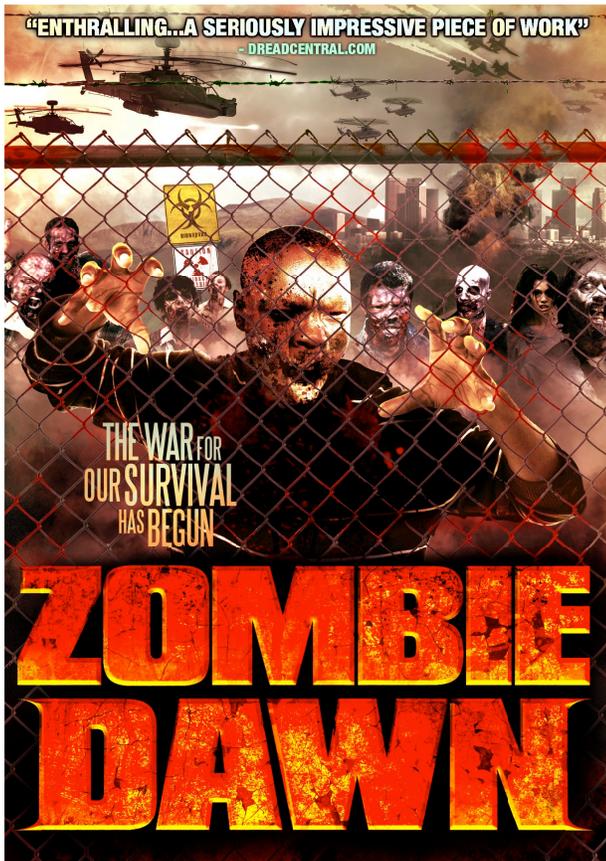

"WILL MAKE ZOMBIE FANS JUMP UP AND DOWN WITH EXCITEMENT" ZOMBIE-POPCORN.COM

"THIS LOOKS SO SCARY ! ... I CAN'T WAIT" TOM STOCKMAN, WEAREMOVIEGEEKS.COM

"ZOMBIE DAWN IS READY TO TAKE ON THE HORROR WORLD ONE SOUL AT A TIME!" HORRORBID.COM

"ENTHRALLING...A SERIOUSLY IMPRESSIVE PIECE OF WORK" DREADCENTRAL.COM

"FOR ONLY A SHOE-STRING BUDGET, THEY HAVE SURPASSED THEMSELVES" HORROR-MOVIES.CA

US NATIONWIDE THEATRICAL RELEASE

- Over 20 US Markets -

Produced in Chile, South America

In 2006 a mysterious mining accident in a remote territory unleashes an unspeakable horror that creates a zombie horde with an appetite for human flesh. It decimates large portions of the country. The only course of action is to rapidly enclose the infected areas and seal them off from the rest of the remaining, living population before the horror can spread. Now, 15 years later, the tattered remains of the government and the mining corporation responsible where the initial event took place commit themselves to finding out what may have happened at the mining complex. The solution is to send in a group of mercenaries lead by a cynical but no nonsense Colonel and scientists into the quarantined zone to find answers. But what they begin to find is more than they bargained for as much has transpired in the 15 years since the zone enclosure. And it soon becomes a fight for their very survival as they must not only battle the unknown but themselves as each of them has their own agenda and reasons for taking part in what may very well be a one way mission.

Run Time: 83 minutes

Production Year: 2012

Studio: Eagle One Media

Rating: R – Contains Graphic Violence & Adult Language and Situations

Screen Ratio: 2.35:1

Audio: Stereo

Language: English, Spanish

Sales & Marketing By: Eagle One Media

FILM WEBSITE: www.zombiedawnmovie.com