SANDY DENNY

UNDER REVIEW

This documentary film reviews the music and career one of Britain's finest female vocalists and songwriters: Sandy Denny. She is revered deeply amongst fans of folk music and the 'singer-songwriter' genre, but has never received universal acclaim for her tremendous talent.

This program attempts to redress this imbalance and reveal why she remains such an inspiration to so many. Includes brand new and exclusive interviews with Dave Swarbrick, Martin Carthy, Dave Mattacks, Jerry Conway, and John Renbourn that have been added. In addition, the documentary is peppered with review, comment, criticism and insight from: Fairport Convention biographer and all around Sandy Denny expert Patrick Humphries; acclaimed folk journalist Colin Irwin and Uncut magazine's contributing editor, Nigel Williamson.

“My favourite singer
out of all the British girls that ever were.”

—Robert Plant
