

Snakes And Music

Truisims

This is the reissue of the 2003 debut of Snakes and Music, Andrew Low's post Jazz June project that features melodic jams in an abstract art rock fashion. For fans of Archers of Loaf, Superchunk and Built To Spill. The mix is influenced by groups from across the musical spectrum - Pavement, Stereolab, My Bloody Valentine, Pink Floyd and Neil Young cited as part of their inspiration - resulting in songs that are compact, exciting and often based on personal experience (i.e. relationships), says Joe Viglione of AMG. "This is really good and catchy... An engaging debut," says Kyle Ryan of Punk Planet.
